RESEARCH AT A HIGH IMPACT UNIVERSITY

UC Santa Cruz faculty and students conduct transformative research and scholarship that serves society. Undergraduate students experience a small liberal arts college environment with the depth and rigor of a major research university through the pairing of high-impact research with 10 tight-knit residential colleges – a rare combination among U.S. public universities.

Undergraduate Research Opportunities

Examples of UCSC undergraduate research programs:

Division of Physical & Biological Sciences Student Research: opportunities for research in a variety of programs including Center for Adaptive Optics, Institute for Geophysics and Planetary Physics, Institute of Marine Sciences & Long Marine Lab, and UC Observatories/Lick Observatory.

Division of Humanities Special Projects: opportunities for experience in diverse special projects and research programs at the Humanities Institute (THI), Center for Cultural Studies, Central California Writing Project, and Center for Labor Studies.

The Expressive Intelligence Studio: opportunities to explore the intersection of artificial intelligence, art and design through creation of new forms of interactive art and entertainment.

Research

Major Research Centers include:

Arts Research Institute seeks to enhance the national and international prominence of the arts at UCSC through publication, performance, exhibition, or curation. It seeks to increase the quality and vitality of research and creative work in theory, scholarship, and practice in the arts.

California Institute for Quantitative Biomedical Research (QB3) is a consortium of 3 University of California campuses—UC Berkeley, UC Santa Cruz, and UCSF with 215 faculty affiliates. It emphasizes quantitative approaches to the biosciences with the goal of developing tools to predict biological processes.

UC Santa Cruz Genomics Institute promotes interdisciplinary research of genomic information and structural biology and supports the UCSC Genome Browser.

Center for Information Technology Research in the Interest of Society (CITRIS) creates information technology solutions for pressing social, environmental, and health care problems.

Center for Agroecology is a research, education and public service unit dedicated to furthering organic agriculture, ecological sustainability and social justice in the food and agriculture system.

Institute for Marine Sciences is located on the Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary, the nation's largest marine sanctuary, and is composed of faculty, students and researchers engaged in research related to ocean health and marine life.

Santa Cruz Institute for Particle Physics focuses on experimental and theoretical particle physics and astrophysics, as well as the development and application of related technologies.

The University of California Observatories/Lick Observatory is a Multi-Campus Research Unit of the University of California comprised of extensive technical facilities, telescope and support facilities, and staff of astronomers.
The UC Santa Cruz Community

The University of California, Santa Cruz is committed to promoting and protecting an environment that values and supports every person in an atmosphere of civility, honesty, cooperation, professionalism and fairness. UCSC strives to be:

Diverse: We embrace diversity in all its forms and we strive for an inclusive community that fosters an open, enlightened and productive environment.

Open: We believe free exchange of ideas requires mutual respect and consideration for our differences.

Purposeful: We are a participatory community united by shared commitments to: service to society; preservation and advancement of knowledge; and innovative teaching and learning.

Caring: We promote mutual respect, trust and support to foster bonds that strengthen the community.

Just: We are committed to due process, respect for individual dignity and equitable access to resources, recognition and rewards.

Disciplined: We seek to advance common goals through reasonable and realistic practices, procedures and expectations.

Celebrative: We celebrate the heritage, achievements and diversity of the community and the uniqueness and contributions of our members.

We accept the responsibility to pursue these principles in an atmosphere of personal and intellectual freedom, security, respect, civility and mutual support.

Student Experiences and Perceptions

Students who are actively involved in their own learning and development are more likely to be successful in college. Colleges and universities offer students a wide variety of opportunities both inside and outside the classroom to become engaged with new ideas, people, and experiences. Institutions measure the effectiveness of these opportunities in a variety of ways to better understand what types of activities and programs students find the most helpful. Following are the selected results from the 2022 University of California Undergraduate Experience Survey (UCUES). The questions have been grouped together in categories that are known to contribute to student learning and development. The results reported below are based on the responses of seniors who participated in the survey.

Seniors who took the UC Undergraduate Experience Survey in Spring 2022:

Learning Outcomes

Each undergraduate program at UC Santa Cruz assesses the learning of its majors through a senior capstone requirement. The options available for satisfying this requirement are described in the catalog statement for each program. In this way, faculty assess overall student achievement in terms that are appropriate for the overall educational objectives of the program from which they graduate.

A word about the data and information used in this profile

Almost all of the data used in this profile comes from an annual collection of data prepared by the campus called the Common Data Set (CDS). Many colleges and universities across the country post their CDS on their websites as part of a collaborative effort between publishers and the educational community to provide consistent and accurate data regarding higher education. Preparation of these data sets is governed by a set of standards and definitions that all participating institutions are asked to follow. However, for a variety of reasons, including management and local practices, colleges and universities sometimes use different definitions and standards to produce data that is similar in purpose to data found in this profile. Consequently, statistics found in other campus and system wide publications and websites may differ from those that appear in this profile. In addition, the information in this profile may change from time to time. Therefore users are urged to check for updates periodically.
